

Winter: A New Tourism Experience

When winter arrives, the tourism experience in the Ottawa Valley is transformed. You can spend the days on the slopes or the trails, indoors or outdoors. A full day of activity can wrap up over a great meal or cozy cabin with friends and family. When you live in this region, you don't just wait for winter to be over, you get out there and live it up!

Winter festivals in the Valley are part of the unique fabric of the local communities. Outdoor rinks abound with activity and frozen lakes and ponds become gathering places. There are plenty of activities indoors as well at art centres, libraries and recreation centres. Winter is a new kind of tourism experience here, so please join us!
